New York staggered. Men were dropping dead in the streets and children players in their tussle with the Ohi-were dying in the tenements at an alarming rate. The low percentage of the sun else New York would be in a worse humidity tempered the heat of the sun, else New York would be in a worse ning.

No relief is promised before to-morrow night or Thursday, although there may be local thunderstorms to-night. So long as the wind continues to blow off the land life will be bearable, but if it should shift and mantle the city with the moisture-laden air of the sea, the suffering will be much greater.

BY BOZEMAN BULGER. 8.-- Fred Clarke awoke to day, and his thoughts wandered back to that game of yesterday. He stuck pins in his right side to see if he were dreaming. Ascertaining that he was still alive he rang for his valet and had the rape rought to him.

"Now," said Frederick, "if I could just do that one more time my heart would be content and I could proceed on my way rejoicing." With the aid of an X-ray machine he came to the Polo Grounds to look over his pitchers to see if any of them had in them that which gained Phillippe a place in the Hall of Fame. A herd of reporters hung around waiting the result, Mr. Clarke said they sould find out

In the meant.me McGraw was also ooking over his string for available talent. He said it would likely be decide until the last minute.

As usual a vast multitude faithful gathered despite the sw was decided to remove hats, coats and collars to get down to business. Mr. B. Dreyfuss came to the grounds in disguise but gave himself away by studiously reading a programme for the races at Brighton. Occasionally he glanced furtively at the club-bruse, thinking of the times when McGraw put him wise with tips. All is over between them now and the Pittsourg magnate dropped the programme and drew from his pocket his memorandum of that bet of $4,000 to $1,000 he is said to have made that Pittsburg would win the pernant. At this memeat the umpire called play.

First Inning.

Clymer opened the festivities with a clear one base smash to centre. Clarke instead of bunting lifted a pop fly to Dahlen. Leach followed with another clear drive to right field, but Clymer stumbled and had to remain at second. Wagner smashed the ball straight at Gilbert, forcing Leach at second. Wagner theretwon stole second. Howard was thrown out by Dahlen. NO KUNS.

Browne's opening ine drive stuck to Leach's mitt and Donlin field to Howard on the second ball pitched. Peaumont swallowed McGann's long drive. NO RUNS.

Second inning.

Second Inning.

Brain got one square on the nose and off it is centre for a single. McGann was a victim of Devlin on the same kind of a play. Case forced Rain out at second. No RUNS.

Metes sent clymer after his hard raptor to right, but the Pittsburger landed it clos to the fence. Howard dropord Wagner's throw, but recovered the ball in time. Devlin was easy for Loch. No RUNS.

Thmird Inning.

Brain out away and Montanus rushed head and and Abdure and Montanus rushed head and and and Montanus rushed head and send to the stretch, followed by Optician, Vino and Edith James. In the spiked by McGann. Wagner again flied to Doulin. ONE RUN.

BRIGHTON BEACH, July 18.- In the six events at Brighton this afternoon there were eighty horses ergafed. This in spite of the fact that there is a meeting at Providence which has cheap variety.

Vith such enormous fields, it is no wonder that the bookies make money. For the chances against the player, utributed to the sart and interferences in a race, are immense. It is the size of the fields that makes the game hard, but at the same time winners are at mod orders, and this is what the public likes.
